

Packing list

Body content starts below the header.
Use this space for the information that changes from document to document.

Footer text is repeated at the bottom of each page.